

PLURAL NOUNS

Directions: This story's writer was in a hurry yesterday, and he or she didn't finish checking the story. As you read, correct any errors you find. Pay attention to singular and plural nouns.

We went on a picnics yesterday. There were four peoples and a zillion ant. An ant may be little, but there are a lot of them.

Our family went to the parks, and we ate our lunch there. It was delicious! We had an apples, sandwich, peachs, and carrot. The best part of the picnic was the cupcake. We left them in a boxes. We shouldn't have done that.

I never had the chance to sink my teeths into even one cupcake. The ants found the cupcakes before we did. Dad was startled by the ants. He fell right on the cupcake box. All the cupcake were squashed and destroyed.

Picnic! Ant! You can have them. All I'd like is a cupcakes.